

Case Study

Project: Energy & Industrials GLG Research Council
Client: Gerson Lehrman Group
Engagement: March 2012 to date

Project Summary

Gerson Lehrman Group (GLG) helps leading companies and investment firms learn more about current business issues by arranging interactions with members of the GLG Councils. The GLG Councils are a network of academics, scientists, industry practitioners, and other professionals worldwide.

GLG is transforming the way the world's top professionals share expertise and learn

Gerson Lehrman Group

John Cowan of Chacefield Associates is a member of the Energy and Industrials GLG Research Council advising clients specifically on the waste management and renewables sectors.

Session Details

Advice is typically given at short notice on a specific topic via a telephone conference call, although the option is there for clients to request face to face meetings or other types of interaction.

The sessions consist of providing sector specific market analysis and views on the competitive landscape and industry trends on a confidential basis.

Session Outcomes

Interactions with Chacefield Associates in this way allow clients to be better informed in making investment decisions in key industry sectors.

Contact

John Cowan
DIRECTOR

Phone: +44 (0) 131 240 1243
Mobile: +44 (0) 7983 631 732
john.cowan@chacefield.com